Two results stood out today in the counting of votes in yesterday's off-year elections in 15 states — the collapse of Tammany Hall as a power in New York City and the defeat of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization in its first concerted effort to win control of a major city government.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia became the first "reform" mayor in New York's history to succeed himself. He overcame his Tammany-Democratic opponent, Jeremiah T. Mahoney, and carried his running mates, including the youthful "rackets buster" Thomas A. Dewey, to an overwhelming victory.

The C. I. O. lost its fight to make Patrick H. O'Brien, Democrat, mayor of Detroit, and failed to place any of its candidates on the nine-member city council. The new mayor, Richard W. Reading, received the support of the American Federation of Labor. Despite the reversal, Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, C. I. O. Affiliate, declared that the returns showed that a "new and powerful factor" (Continued on Page Eight)

J. E. FORD LOSES ELECTION FIGHT FOR VINDICATION

CHILLICOTHE, Nov. 3—James E. Ford, ousted as mayor because of his refusal to oust gaming devices, was balked in his attempt to regain the office, Tuesday, when Harold Brown, a Republican, defeated him by 264 votes.

Ford, 72, and a stormy petrel in Democratic politics for many years, sought vindication at the polls after a court trial that resulted in his removal by Judge Harrison W. Jewell, Delaware.

Ford was leading Brown with 20 of Chillicothe's 25 precincts reporting, but the G. O. P. nominee went ahead on the twenty-first and increased his lead until the end.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3—With one exception, Republicans swept the election in Columbus. Herbert Dailey, a Democrat, was chosen to city council. A 2.4 mill levy was defeated.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3—Cincinnati voters approved a bond issue for $5,000,000 as a defense against floods.

THREE DEFEAT C. I. O. CANDIDATES

RICHARD W. READING
COMMITTEE for Industrial Organization, labor union, was admitting defeat in three major mayoralty races today after Tuesday's balloting. In Detroit, probably the most unionized city in the United States, Reading, who received the belated support of the American Federation of Labor, was victor over Patrick H. O'Brien, actively backed by the C. I. O. In Akron, chief rubber city of the world, Mayor Lee D. Schroy was ahead of Municipal Judge G. L. Patterson, C. I. O. candidate, by almost 10,000 votes. Schroy is a Republican. In Canton, another leading industrial city, Mayor James Secombe more than doubled Darrell Smith, Democrat and C. I. O.-supported aspirant.

Williamsport's proposed $30,000 bond issue for a gymnasium addition to the school building was defeated in Tuesday's election, unofficial tabulations reveal.

Total vote in the district for the issue was 363 for, and 267 against. In the village the vote was 189 for the issue and 119 against. The township vote was 174 for and 148 against.

The issue required a 65 percent vote and received a 58 percent vote, losing by seven percent. Plans were to construct the addition on the east side of the school. It was to contain two classrooms, a kitchen, locker and shower rooms in addition to the gymnasium. Efforts to make the addition a P.W.A. project were unsuccessful.

Wayne Addition Voted
Wayne township voters approved a $3,000 bond issue for the construction of a one-room addition to the school at Westfall by a vote of 142 to 58. The room will be used for the seventh and eighth grades, now using the auditorium for classes. The addition was needed as increases in attendance (Continued on Page Eight)

Dozen "Friends" Vote For Junior Adkins, Constable

Atty. J. W. Adkins, Jr., came within 1,529 votes of being elected constable of Circleville township at Tuesday's election. He did not know he was a candidate until Tuesday evening.

A group of Joe's "friends" conducted a last-minute campaign Tuesday afternoon and obtained 12 votes for him written in on the ballots. Walter Heise was elected to the office with 1,541 votes.

Arrangements had been made for Adkins to use a red and white bicycle, recovered by the sheriff's department and the owner unknown, for his official duties. A special G-man badge of shiny brass was presented Adkins at the board of elections office Tuesday night. Joe assisted in making tabulations on the city returns.

Joe assailed his workers for the feeble efforts made in his behalf. Five of the votes were cast in his own precinct. He alleged one dime put up for his campaign was spent by workers for soft drinks.

One of Joe's friends suggested that his name be listed for the position of constable-at-large.

DRYS CUT INTO OHIO TERRITORY IN OPTION VOTES

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3—(UP)—Ohio "drys" made keep advances into territory held by the "wets" in Tuesday's local option votes conducted under provisions of the state liquor law.

With only one-fourth of the state still "wet," the "drys" won two-thirds of the 157 special votes held yesterday, partial returns indicated.

Of the 157 local option votes held in 93 communities, 56 of the first 79 reported showed a dry victory. Only 23 went to the "wets."

In the 93 communities, scattered over 38 counties, 76 elections were held on liquor and 81 on beer, with many communities voting on both.

Of the first 40 returns on the liquor question, the "drys" won 30 and the "wets" only 10. On the beer question, the "drys" took 26 of the first 39 reported results with the "wets" winning only 13.

Since the elections were held over a wide area in the state, the "drys" two to one victory margin is expected to hold up as further results are reported during the day.

Wayne Hoover and A. J. Dunkel are retiring members of the board. They did not seek re-election. All names except that of Willis were written in.

CITY'S NEXT MAYOR SWEEPS PRECINCTS

John E. Himrod Elected Treasurer, Succeeding Mack Parrett, Jr., Republican Incumbent; B. T. Hedges New Justice of Peace

NEUDING TO REPLACE STEINHAUSER

Democrats to Fill Council Chamber on Jan. 1; Ben Gordon Ahead of Other Candidates

William B. Cady, S. Scioto street, was elected mayor of Circleville, Tuesday, by a margin of 815 votes over William J. Graham, his Republican opponent who is completing his first term in the city's chief office. Graham won from Cady, then mayor, two years ago in an election featured by a tie vote and a court action that ended in victory for the G. O. P. candidate.

Mr. Cady, a retired army officer and backed solidly by the Democratic organization headed by Lawrence E. Goeller, carried every precinct including Graham's own to gather a total of 1,864 votes. His foe's total was 1,049.

Mack Parrett, Jr., another Republican officeholder, was defeated for a second term as treasurer by John E. Himrod, E. Union street antique dealer. Himrod ran closely behind Mayor-elect Cady to receive 1,758 ballots, 836 more votes than Parrett, and 21 more than the margin Cady obtained over Graham.

Steinhauser Defeated

A change was made in the ward council set-up when John Neuding, Elm avenue, gained a 32-vote advantage over Harry L. Steinhauser, W. Mound street. Neuding is a Democrat; Steinhauser a Republican. Steinhauser, finishing his first term in council, was ahead of Neuding when the north precinct of the Third Ward reported, but the south precinct gave Neuding enough to gain the office.

All three Democrats seeking offices as councilmen-at-large gained enough votes to assure election. Ben H. Gordon, chairman of council's finance committee and a leader in the fight against the 10-year light rate ordinance, led all candidates for the councilman-at-large job. He was given 1,832 votes, only 32 less than Mayor-elect Cady, while Frank A. Lynch, softdrink manufacturer who was seeking his first elective office, received 1,792.

Clarence Helwage, coal and gasoline dealer, was the third Democrat chosen. His vote was 1,593, nearly 600 more than the 1,008 given to R. L. Brehmer, N. Court street florist, who was the only Republican candidate for an at-large position.

There were no contests in the other three wards, Donald Mason receiving a complimentary vote of 521 in the First Ward, Julius Helwage 371 in the Second Ward, and W. M. Reid 404 in the Fourth Ward. All are Democrats.

Mason will replace Clyde O. Leist, Helwage will succeed himself, and Reid will take the place now held by Tull M. Barnes. Leist and Barnes were beaten in the August primary.

OHIO CITIES VOTE TO AID DEFENSE AGAINST FLOODS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3—(UP)—Despite the state-wide trend to reject bond issues and special levies, southern Ohio voters, remembering the raging flood waters that inflicted millions of dollars in damage because of inadequate protection, approved more than $7,000,000 for flood defenses, election returns showed today.

Cincinnati voters defeated the proposed bond issues for out-r public improvements, but voted $5,000,000 for flood defense.

In Ironton, a $2,000,000 issue for flood protection was voted.

Portsmouth voters approved a $100,000 issue for heightening the flood in that city.

FARMER PRICES FALL SLIGHTLY IN LAST MONTH

Grains Break As Corn Drops 35 Cents For Each Bushel

INCOME REMAINS GOOD

Meat Animals Continue At High Mark

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Prices farmers received for their products in the United States and Ohio continued to decline during the month ended Oct. 15, the Federal-State crop reporting service reported today.

From Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, advancing truck crop prices and seasonal advances in dairy and poultry products were more than offset by declines in other groups, the reporting service said.

Largely as a result of a 35 cents a bushel drop in corn prices, the index of grain prices broke sharply. Meat animals, cotton products and fruit prices also showed material declines. All prices except meat animals and poultry products were lower than a year earlier.

Latest reports on receipts from farm marketing indicated that the increase in sales of farm products so far has maintained farm income at levels slightly higher than a year earlier.

Prices received by Ohio farmers on comparable dates included:

PITTS, BELLAMY

Feg Murray tells the inside story on a hero and a comedienne in his "Seein' Stars in Hollywood" feature on Sunday, Nov. 7. The man who plays the hero roles in pictures is Ralph Bellamy and the comedienne is Zasu Pitts. Both these stars will be heard over the NBC blue network at 7:30 p. m. (EST) along with Murray, Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard.

As he has done in the case of many other Hollywood personalities, Murray goes behind the scenes to dramatize little known incidents in the past careers of Bellamy and Zasu Pitts. He gets authentic information on the stories from the stars themselves, then dramatizes the stories for radio and gets the stars themselves and heroes of the dramas to play their own parts. It's one of the most realistic experiments in drama radio has ever attempted.

The latest releases in song hits will be played by Ozzie Nelson's orchestra with the vocals handled by Ozzie and Harriet Hilliard.

ARMCO BAND RETURNS

Frank Simon's famed Armco Band, one of the nation's favorite concert bands, will return to the air over WLW and the NBC networks 3:30 to 4 p. m. EST, Sundays, on January 2, 1938, in its ninth consecutive season.

In the past the band series has begun in the late fall, but this year the sponsor decided to start the concerts the first of the new year.

This season the Armco Band Concerts will be broadcast from the stage of Emory Auditorium in downtown Cincinnati. Last year dramatized highlights, "It Couldn't Be Done," provided brief histories of famous inventions and events in the nation's history. In the coming series, outstanding boys and girls who have won music scholarships and awards, will be guests of Conductor Simon and the Ironmaster. Bennett Chapple, vice-president of the American Rolling Mill Company, again will be heard as the Ironmaster.

ROAD BUILDERS SEEK IMPARTIAL HIGHWAY PROBE

Right Of Governor and Officials to Carry On Inquiry Hit

PUBLIC IS CONSIDERED

Adequate Funds Advised For Investigation

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3 — (UP) — Ohio road contractors today joined in a demand for a "fair and impartial" investigation of the state highway department.

C. M. Duncan, secretary of the Ohio Contractor's Association, said in the organization's magazine that "a thorough and searching investigation of the department and its problems, fairly and fearlessly conducted and adequately reported by the press of the state, would be worth more than its cost."

On the heels of this new demand for an investigation of alleged irregularities in road contract awards in the highway department, Prof. Clyde T. Morris of Ohio State university, chairman of a board of six professors named by the governor to investigate the department, announced that C. C. Crabbe, Columbus, has been named attorney for the board and that Joseph R. Smart, Columbus, has been named engineering assistant.

Crabbe, a Republican, served two terms as attorney general of Ohio. Smart has been associated with the state P.W.A. headquarters here and with the city of Columbus in an engineering capacity.

Right Challenged
In his article, Duncan challenged the right of the governor and state highway officials "to investigate themselves."

In this connection, he referred to Governor Davey's board of university professors, and to highway director John Jaster, Jr.'s, own investigation of his department.

"It implies not the slightest disrespect to either the governor or the director of highways to say that these officials are not in a position to initiate or conduct such an investigation," Duncan said.

"The public will not be satisfied with an investigation of the department made or initiated by those responsible for its management. All hearings of the investigating committee should be open to the public."

"The committee must be empowered to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of records, and it must have adequate funds for the employment of counsel and investigators," he added.

Continuing, Secretary Duncan said alleged "collusive bidding" on highway contracts "had been forced on the industry by federal rule."

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, he said, has ruled that no award might be made on any project financed in whole or part from federal funds unless there were at least two bidders. Consequently, contractors were "forced" to obtain at least one "complimentary" bid when they sought work, he charged.

Disposal of Leaves Off Trees Told By Florist

By R. L. BREHMER

What to do with the leaves off the trees is our present problem and most folk solve the problem by burning them or sweeping them into the street to be hauled away or scattered again by the first wind.

What not to do with them is important. Do not use them as a mulch for your perennial flowers. They get wet and smother the flowers. Use straw or other light litter for mulching. If you wish to make use of the leaves, and use it to top dress your lawn being taught how to make their own garden. Florists are now own straw manure for fertilizer by use of chemical fertilizers and straw, getting a superior material to ordinary stable manure.

To make a compost pile simply start by taking a twelve inch thick layer of leaves and scatter a half pound of 20 percent superphosphate to each bushel of leaves then wet down the leaves with the hose and put on another layer until your pile is completed. The leaves will decompose within nine to 12 months and when scattered over the lawn make a very superior mulch or top dressing material. In small quantities, superphosphate can be purchased from your florist or other merchants who handles fertilizers. Superphosphate is the best thing to use for your gladioli or tulip or other bulbs when planting them. Do not mix it into the soil around the bulb.

Do not use leaves to mulch your outdoor roses. Just draw a mound of soil up around the stem and let it remain all winter until next May and remove it then when you cut the teas and hybrid teas back after they have started to grow vigorously. If you have tender climbers which often freeze back, remove the canes from their support and throw a small amount of loose soil over the canes. You may use leaves to cover them with also without damage.

The ashes from the leaves you burn will be of benefit if scattered over the lawn or garden since they contain potash that is beneficial.

Continuing, Secretary Duncan said alleged "collusive bidding" on highway contracts "had been forced on the industry by federal rule."

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, he said, has ruled that no award might be made on any project financed in whole or part from federal funds unless there were at least two bidders. Consequently, contractors were "forced" to obtain at least one "complimentary" bid when they sought work, he charged.

KENTUCKY GOES TO POLLS; ONE DEAD, 35 JAILED

Sheriff and Precinct Men
Arrested For Violating
Wagner Labor Act

HARLAN COUNTY WATCHED

Argument In Booth Ends In Man's Shooting

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3 — (UP)—Democratic majorities were indicated today in first returns from the state-wide elections which resulted in National Guard patrols, frequent brawls, one fatal shooting and the arrest of a sheriff, three deputies and 31 precinct officers.

In the principal state issue, election of an attorney general, returns from 130 of 4,442 precincts gave:

Atty. Gen. Hubert Meredith, Democrat: 11,713.
G. Tom Hawkins, Republican: 4,834.

Both Democrat Joseph D. Scholtz and Republican James G. Stewart claimed an advantage in early returns from the race to succeed Neville Miller as mayor of Louisville.

Democrats apparently had won control of more than 20 of the 38 seats in the state senate.

Defeat of two proposed constitutional amendments was indicated early. They would have permitted the legislature to reorganize city and county governments, and authorized submission of more than two amendments in any one election.

Harlan Patrolled

State police and National Guardsmen patrolled Harlan county, in the heart of the mining district, at orders of Gov. A. B. Chandler, who said he heard reports that armed deputies were taking charge of elections.

Troops arrested Sheriff T. R. Middleton, 31 precinct officers, and Deputies Ben Uthank, Lee Fleenor and Frank White. The deputies were under federal indictment, with the sheriff, on charges of violating the Wagner act in connection with union activities.

State police refused to say on what charges the men were held. The prisoners were held incommunicado in Harlan county courthouse.

Harlan county, traditionally Republican, had been the center of a drive by the United Mine Workers of America to support the first full Democratic ticket in the county's history. State troops took charge of ballot boxes in several mining towns, reported they had stopped "a number" of persons from casting ballots. Frequent disorders were reported, none serious.

In West Liberty, Ky., Constable Robert Whitt of Morgan county was shot to death and Elize Perry was wounded critically after an election argument in a voting booth in nearby Wrigley.

Oscar Noland was wounded and Evelyn Noble was arrested after an argument in Seco, Ky., but Sheriff W. H. Caull of Letcher county denied the shooting had anything to do with elections.

Rain, and lack of general interest greatly reduced voting and state officials predicted the lightest vote in years.

Marketable stocks of oranges for this winter and next spring are expected to be 3,000,000 boxes larger than the 1936 crop and one-fourth larger than the average crop for 1931-35. Production of grapefruit is indicated at the second highest point on record.

MARTIN FORESEES CONTINUED DRIVE BY C. I. O. FORCES

DETROIT, Nov. 3 — (UP) — Homer Martin, international president of the United Automobile Workers of America, said today that "regardless of results, the (Detroit) election has shown that a new and powerful factor has entered the city's political life."

"In the brief space of two years, organized labor, through the U. A. W., the C. I. O., and associated union of the A. F. of L., has made its voice heard in the clamor of reactionary interests which have united years of feeding on public pay into an obese claim to 'non-partisanship,'" Martin added in a statement.

"Organized labor, win or lose, will continue its fight for the social and economic betterment of the working classes."

Despite the overwhelming defeat accorded the Committee for Industrial Organization in yesterday's municipal election, Martin's statement added:

"The last drum beat in Detroit's battle of ballots has not been heard, but the tide so far clearly indicates that organized labor is on the march to an important position among the city's electorate. Until the last precinct has reported, victory claims are premature."

You can vary your fall costume by wearing colored shoes. For example, a deep wine tint of malaga worn with black or navy puts new life into an otherwise dull costume.

The lawyer finally gets wise to the scheme, but Boo-Boo, a native imp of Africa, is wiser and does his part to provide a happy ending.

INDIANA, GIVEN BREAK BY OHIO STATE, MAY SMASH TITLE CHANCES

HOOSIERS AIDED IN ATTEMPT TO FILL SCHEDULE

Six Games Being Played By Bucks Instead Of Usual Five

McMILLEN'S MEN FAST

Long Offensive Practice On Schmidt's Plan

COLUMBUS, Nov. 3—(UP)—A willingness to help a rival Big Ten school out of a tough spot in schedule-making may cost Ohio State a share in the Western conference football championship this season. This year marks only fourth time since Ohio State entered the Big Ten in 1913 that a Buck team has played six conference foes during a campaign. The normal number is five.

The presence of six Big Ten rivals on the Bucks schedule this season and next came because L. W. St. John, veteran Ohio State Athletic director, was willing to lend Indiana University a hand in its tough task of forming a schedule each season.

Indiana, because of adverse gridiron fortunes over a long period and a location not conducive to huge crowds at their home contests, experiences considerable trouble in forming a schedule.

Appealed to St. John

Two years ago when the current schedule was made Alvin (Bo) McMullen, head football coach of the Hoosiers, was balked at every turn in attempting to complete his grid program. Finally he appealed to St. John and Francis A. Schmidt, the Buck coach, to help him out. Although five conference games previously had been arranged the Buck officials waived their desire to take on an inter-sectional foe and scheduled Indiana.

Saturday the Hoosiers come here for a title-bearing game in the Big Ten and may knock the team that gave them a "lift" out of the Western conference race.

The Hoosiers have one of their strongest teams in history. An early season loss to Minnesota has spoiled their own championship chances, but they have hopes of finishing in the first division and a victory over Ohio would go a long way toward winning them an upper-bracket berth.

The Bucks took a long offensive drill yesterday with special emphasis being placed on their passing-attack.

DETROIT TO PAY TRIBUTE TO GEHRINGER, BALL STAR

DETROIT, Nov. 3 — (UP) — Baseball fans will gather at a Detroit hotel tonight to honor Charley Gehring, Detroit Tigers' second baseman who has been selected as the most valuable player in the American league.

A banquet, sponsored by the Detroit Board of Commerce in conjunction with leading sportsmen, is expected to attract 700 or more guests. Gehring will be given a watch by a sporting publication in honor of his award.

PARKER TO SIGN WITH PRO GRID LEAGUE OUTFIT

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—(UP)—Ace Parker, All-America halfback at Duke last year, was expected to sign a contract today to play professional football with the National League Brooklyn club.

President Dan Topping, of the Brooklyn club, said that he had made Parker an attractive offer. Parker, a rookie with the Philadelphia Athletics baseball team last year, had to get permission from Connie Mack to negotiate for a pro grid berth.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

PREVENTING A HOLDUP
A VERY DESIRABLE holding to possess in the suit led against no trump by your partner consists of three cards headed by the ace and queen. If you play the ace on the first trick, the declarer with the king can afford safely to hold up until the third round. But if you play the queen on the opening trick, he is afraid to hold up, for fear that the ace may be at his left and will kill off his king. That queen play is particularly valuable if you hold a positive winner in some other suit, as you are then able to lay down your ace for the second trick in the original suit and put your partner back in with your remaining card.

South allowed this to hold and won the third round with the K. South was fortunate in finding the club A in the East hand and therefore lost only two spades and a club. East could have prevented South from making his contract by playing the Q on the first round of spades. South then would have been in the position of deciding whether to win with the king or take the chance of not winning any tricks at all in that suit if it developed that West's lead had been from the A-J-10. The winning of the first spade trick would have defeated South, as when East then won the club, he would have cashed the spade A and led his last spade to West.

ANNA TO RELATE HER LIFE BEFORE MURDER JURORS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3—(UP)—Anna Marie Hahn will be permitted to relate to the jury of 11 women and one man in her first degree murder trial events of her past life, Judge Charles S. Bell ruled today.

Judge Bell at first had refused to permit the 31-year-old blonde, accused of the poison murders of four old men, to review her life. He explained today he had changed his ruling because the jury should know her background before reaching a verdict.

The defense today was permitted to interrupt cross examination of Mrs. Hahn to present Dr. William Duncan McNally, Chicago toxicologist, as a witness.

Dr. McNally, who said he had examined more than 12,000 bodies for presence of poison, testified that some persons develop an "arsenic tolerance" that renders them immune to the effects of 1 to 10 grains of arsenic. He said he had never heard of arsenic being described as "sweet."

CADY IS CHOSEN AS MAYOR OVER WILL J. GRAHAM

(Continued from Page One) will not be in the new lineup being seated next January 1. They are E. S. Neuding and Frank A. Marion, neither of who sought reelection. Gordon succeeds himself.

Hedges, Merriman Fight The justice of peace contest in Circleville township brought a heated contest with former Mayor B. T. Hedges being elected to replace Harold O. Eveland. Hedges, who ran well in nearly all precincts, gained 735 votes against a surprisingly-strong Elmer Merriman, who tallied 720, Eveland, who is serving his first term, was third with 506 ballots. Other candidates for the office finished in the following order: George F. Hammel, 393; F. A. Marion, 281; George Strawser, 177; Arthur Foll, 59.

Hedges' constable will be Walter Heise, who has held the same position under Eveland. Heise gathered 1,541 votes against 422 for Leslie Marshall, his nearest opponent. Willard Stonerock tallied 397, and W. B. Teets scored 164.

James Mowery, Circleville township farmer, will join the board of township trustees replacing Milton Manson for a four-year term. Mowery's total of 1,383 was second to that of John Greeno, S. Pickaway street, who had 1,446. Mr. Greeno is an incumbent. Manson tallied 1,341 votes.

George E. Eitel was elected to the two-year term as trustee without opposition. His vote was 1,705. Eitel is serving on the board.

Harry E. Lane was named again for the position as township clerk with a vote of 1,473 over Frank Haines' 925.

All Circleville candidates running without opposition received excellent complimentary votes. John C. Goeller, veteran president of council, had his name marked 1,774 times; 1,634 votes were cast for Solicitor Carl C. Leist, and Lawrence Goeller and Mrs. Howard B. Moore, seeking reelection to the board of education without opposition, received 1,826 and 1,700 votes, respectively.

Committee in Action The election was quiet in the extreme, with nearly all candidates confining their activities to card-passing and friendly handclaps. Things began to steam up in the last few days with Lawrence Goeller leading his Democratic precinct workers in a last-minute effort to get out the vote. Asked concerning the committee's wishes, Mr. Goeller replied: "We are striving for a large vote, because with that I believe we can win."

Queried about the committee's hopes for Cady's election, he declared: "The committee is behind Mr. Cady with everything it has." The Republican committee was not active at any time during the primary or the election. No opposition entered the primary against Mayor Graham.

Cady has not intimidated who his appointees as safety director and service director will be. His campaign was based on a motto: "I have made no promises." Contrary to his passive campaign of two years ago, Cady made a house-to-house canvas of Circleville's voters.

He will take office the first Monday in January, the new council taking its oath the same week.

Merriman Surprises The race Elmer Merriman gave B. T. Hedges for the justice of peace position was the most interesting of the entire election. Unknown in many parts of the city, Merriman conducted an intense campaign. His showing was the outstanding surprise of the entire day's balloting. Hedges returns to politics after being out for four years. He served three terms as mayor, the first Republican to have this honor. He lost in his fourth attempt, Mayor-elect Cady turning the trick in 1933. Harold Eveland, the incumbent, received good support in most of the precincts, but was not able to match the vote-gathering of Hedges and Merriman.

For the third straight time Gordon outdistanced all his opponents and colleagues in the council-at-large race. Basing his campaign on the fight that is continuing against the light rate contract, Gordon ran ahead in nearly all precincts. He will start his third term as a councilman-at-large next January.

The board of elections completed its work on the Circleville and Circleville township election about 11:30 p. m. The total vote of 3,000 predicted by Lawrence Johnson, clerk of the board, was missed by only a small number, 2,913 being cast.

Mayor Graham offered his congratulations to Mayor-elect Cady, Wednesday, saying: "My congratulations to Mr. W. B. Cady, the successful candidate for mayor of Circleville, and to the Democratic organization which gave him such able support."

Lewis Organization Falls Behind In Detroit, Akron and Canton Balloting

Akron, Canton Lost

The C. I. O. and A. F. of L. fought side by side for mayoralty candidates in Akron and Canton, O., but lost in both cities to Republican incumbents.

In Pittsburgh, the C. I. O. claimed partial credit for the reelection of Mayor Cornelius D. Scully, Democrat, while it hailed the election of its mayoralty candidates in Duquesne and Clairton, Pa., both of whom are C. I. O. organizers.

Two nationally known Democrats figured in the results. The colorful James M. Curley, Massachusetts' original "Roosevelt man", former governor and former mayor of Boston, was defeated in his political comeback. He had sought to enter city hall for the third time, but found his career ruined by a 35-year-old school committee man.

The other prominent Democrat, U. S. Senator A. Harry Moore, was elected governor of New Jersey for the third time. With the backing of the powerful machine of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, Moore defeated the Rev. Lester H. Cleo, Presbyterian minister turned political reformer.

Bruce Barton Named

Republicans picked up a congressional seat in the 17th district, New York City, where Bruce Barton, advertising executive running on the Republican-Fusion ticket, defeated his Democratic and American labor party opponents. The seat formerly was held by a Democrat, the late Theodore A. Peyer. Republicans retained two seats in update New York.

Jasper McLevy, New England's only socialist mayor, won a third term as chief executive of Bridgeport, Conn., piling up an overwhelming lead over his Republican and Democratic opponents.

Kentucky experienced another "bloody" election day. One person was shot fatally, a sheriff, three deputies and 31 precinct officers were arrested, and there were numerous brawls during the balloting on minor offices.

The evidence of national trends in the voting throughout the country was inconclusive.

700 INDIAN TERRITORY OIL WORKERS ON STRIKE

REFUGEE DISTRICT IS APPROVED FOR SHANGHAI REGION

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3 — (UP) — Japanese military authorities agreed today to demilitarization of a part of Mantao, in the Chinese section of Shanghai, as Chinese forces were being pushed back slowly on the western outskirts of the international settlement.

A spokesman for the Japanese embassy announced that Japan was willing to recognize one-third of Nantao — a section north of Fongoaing road and adjoining the French concession — as a haven for refugees and that no attack would be made on it.

The area would be policed by foreign troops. The spokesman said Chinese authorities had not yet agreed to the plan but that negotiations were continuing.

War relief agencies insisted on retaining a corridor in the eastern edge of the demilitarized area, he added.

The Japanese warned that any planes flying over their lines would be shot down without warning, regardless of their marks. It had been reported that two British marked monoplane had flown over the Japanese area west of Chenju, on the northwestern outskirts of Shanghai.

WILLIAMSPORT'S BONDS DEFEATED

A three-mile levy was passed in Scioto township for current operating expenses for the schools by a vote of 297 to 267. A majority vote was necessary. Unofficial returns from the three precincts of the township were: South, for 108, against 171; North, for 100, against 51; and Commercial Point, for 89, against 45. The levy is made for three years.

Although Commercial Point's official tabulation on the local option issue had not been announced at noon Wednesday, it was reported residents favored the sale of beer and liquor.

Many of the reports from rural districts were not received at the board of election office until Wednesday. Members of the board were busy checking official figures for Circleville and expected to start work on the rural districts Wednesday afternoon. Workers in the rural districts were asked to bring in their reports Tuesday night, but many did not comply with the request as their elections were entirely local contests and no state reports had to be submitted.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

The screen has not presented during the current season a more completely entertaining motion picture than "Make a Wish," the new Bobby Breen musical starring vehicle filmed by Principal Productions for RKO Radio, which opens an engagement tonight on a double bill with "Sophie Lang Goes West" at the Cliftona Theatre. In no department of production has anything been neglected to make the picture a thoroughly enjoyable one, and it easily qualifies as the best in which the young singing star has ever appeared—a pleasing mixture of comedy, romance, tuneful songs and beautiful backgrounds.

Bobby combines real ability as an actor with a magnificent singing voice which seems even to have increased in volume and sweetness. He is heard in several haunting melodies written by the noted Viennese composer, Oscar Straus, the outstanding one of the group being the theme song bearing the title of the picture itself. Basil Rathbone, no longer the suave villain, plays a truly romantic role for the first time in his screen career, and contributes a performance which stamps him as a versatile actor of unusual attainments.
